

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Who Walk With Us No More.

It smelt low in every heart,
We hear it each and all—
A song of those who answer not,
However we may call;
They throng the silence of the breast,
We see them as of yore—
The kind, the brave, the true, the sweet,
Who walk with us no more.

'Tis hard to take the burden up
When these have laid it down;
They brightened all the joy of life,
They softened every frown;
But, oh! 'tis good to think of them
When we are troubled sore!
Thanks be to God that such have been
Although they are no more!

More home-like seems the vast unknown,
Since they are entered there.
To follow them were not so hard,
Wherever they may fare;
They cannot be where God is not,
On any sea or shore;
Whichever betides, Thy love abides,
Our God, for evermore.

At Miss Roosevelt's Wedding.

will require all the resources of the New York Herald, to fill orders that are pouring in on them for gowns to be worn at Miss Roosevelt's wedding.

One of the handiwork is being made for Mrs. William S. Cowles, a sister of the President. It is of royal blue Olga satin, the skirt being trimmed around the bottom with a Grecian border made of velvet folds of the same color as the satin. The bodice is made in surplice style, with a band of velvet around the neck, embroidered in chenille of the same color. The transparent yoke and collar are of point de Venice lace. The sleeves are elbow length, finished with a full of lace and a band of velvet similar to that around the neck.

Another beautiful gown is that to be worn by Mrs. John Jacob Astor. It is of mauve chiffon velvet, princess style, the waist opening over a vest of silver cloth embroidered in gold, set with amethysts. The skirt is trimmed around the bottom with blue bands of the mauve velvet, edged with silver braid. The sleeves are of velvet, elbow length, slashed up the center and showing the silver cloth and embroidery as in the vest.

Mrs. R. Fulton Cutting will wear a white chiffon dress, Empire effect elaborately embroidered with chenille of the same color.

Mrs. Douglas Robinson, a sister of the President, has ordered a costume of red-ecru panne velvet, Empire style, the short loose jacket being of velvet and lace, with bands of ruche. A broad band of sable encircles the skirt at the bottom.

FEBRUARY BRIDES.

Mahon—Johnson.

The wedding of Miss Rosa Elizabeth Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Johnson, to Mr. Clarence Brooke Mahon, was celebrated at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening, February 7th, in Christ Episcopal Church, the Rev. J. Otis Mead officiating.

The church was decorated in palms and red. The wedding march was played by Miss Fannie Taylor; Mrs. M. P. Pollard was matron of honor, and Miss Phyllis Mahon, of New York, acted as ring-bearer. Mr. C. H. Satterwhite, was best man, and Messrs. John and Daniel Kennedy were the ushers.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a white silk, trimmed with lace, carried bride roses, and had a wreath of roses on her hair. The matron of honor, was in white, and had a bouquet of pink carnations.

The ring-bearer was panned in white over pink, with pink ribbons. A reception was held after the ceremony, at No. 512 Mesby Street, where a handsome array of wedding gifts was displayed. Mr. and Mrs. Mahon will reside at No. 314 North Twenty-fifth Street.

Hutcheson—Cayce.

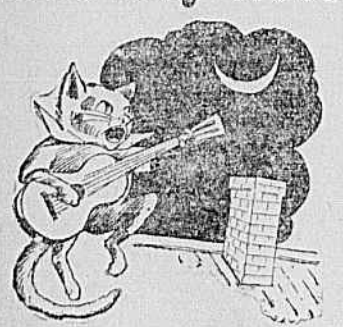

A wedding of interest was celebrated at 12:30 P. M. February 7th, in New York City, when Miss Lella Gordon Cayce, daughter of the late Milton Cayce, of Richmond, and his wife, who was Miss Jeffrey, of Prince Edward county, was married to Mr. George Franklin Hutcheson, son of the late A. A. Hutcheson, of this city, the Rev. George A. Strong, rector of Christ Church, officiating. The ceremony was performed at No. 225 West End Avenue, New York, the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Alexander Boyd Cayce.

Drawing room decorations were in maiden-hair ferns and smilax. The bride and groom stood under a canopy of palms beneath which white satin kneeling cushions were placed. The dining-room was in American Beauty roses, white sweet peas and smilax, ropes of which extended from the chandelier to the four corners of the table.

Miss Ashby Jeffrey Cayce, niece of the bride, was maid of honor. The bride entered with her brother, Mr. A. Boyd Cayce, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore an imported white lace gown over chiffon and tulle. Her veil was caught with a diamond crescent, the groom's gift, and she carried lilies of the valley and white orchids. The maid of honor was in white organza, trimmed with lace.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast. Wedding gifts shown were many and handsome. Mr. and Mrs.

Our February Silk Sale
Is Still in Full Swing

We have been complimented on the big values in this sale of Silks—but the greatest proof of its popularity is the immense sales. For the first week in February the sales are double any of the past. Some of the Silks are more than half a gift, and all are the new styles for spring.

Big Muslin Underwear Values

Every day shoppers are complimenting us on our White Underwear values. It is not surprising when you know how low cotton was when we bought and how high it is now.

Here's What 79c Will Buy

Here are a few of the items that, although worth over half more, are priced at 79c each.

Gowns, made of fine Nainsook—V-shaped neck and short kimono sleeves—trimmed with Val. insertion and edging.

Drawers with wide ruffle of embroidery insertion and dainty tucks.

Gowns with square or V-neck—yokes formed of embroidery insertion and ribbon run.

Skirts made of good cambric, with ruffle of embroidery and three hemstitched tucks.

Skirts with very wide muslin ruffle and two rows of torchon insertion and edging.

Hutcheson left by an afternoon train for Philadelphia en route to Florida, where the honeymoon will be spent. Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. F. V. L. Jones, of Plainfield, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pendleton and Misses Tallaferra, of Elizabeth, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. George Pope, of Roselle, N. J.; and Miss Bertie Smith, of Richmond.

Creedy—Harvie.

The wedding of Miss Willie Gordon Harvie, daughter of Major and Mrs. John Blair Harvie, of No. 401 East Cary Street, to Mr. David Rice Creedy, son of Mr. D. R. Creedy, of Norfolk, Va., was celebrated Wednesday, February 7th, at 4 P. M., in Grace Street Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Jere Witherspoon officiating.

Mr. Weltzel was at the organ and the church was decorated in palms and ferns. Miss Mary Douglas Anderson Harvie, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Annie and Martha Taylor, Otella Harvie, Lucy Catlett, Mary Brockenbrough and Mary Connolly.

Mr. L. Edwin Harvie was best man. The ushers included Messrs. Llewellyn Harvie, Walter Harvie, William M. Ellis, Fane Fisher, George Skipwith and Gordon Harvie.

The maid of honor was attired in pink mull, and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids were in pretty toilets of white organza, and had bouquets of pink carnations.

Master Albert Creedy, of Norfolk, the groom's nephew, was ring-bearer. The bride wore a princess gown of white chiffon built on tulle. Her veil was caught with a diamond sunburst and her flowers were a shower of lily of the valley. A reception was given the bride party after the ceremony in the home of the bride. Guests present from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Creedy and son, of Norfolk; Mrs. Kearney Radford, of Washington; Misses Mary and Lucy Weisner, Miss Lela Jones, Miss Kate Stockell, of Petersburg, Va.; Mrs. W. O. Harvie, Miss Josephine Harvie, Mrs. W. L. Mason, Miss Courtney Taylor, of Amelia, Va.; Mrs. Edward Eggleston, of John Air, Va.; Miss Susie M. Carrington, of Roanoke, Va.; Miss Pearl Ellis, of Shawsville, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Creedy, after making an extended northern tour, will return to spend the winter in Jacksonville, Fla.

Phillips—Russell.

Miss Pattle Elizabeth Russell, of this city, and Mr. Kerwan Plummer Phillips, of Baltimore, Md., were quietly married in No. 26 East Franklin Street, at 11 A. M., February 7th, the Rev. Dr. W. O. Williams, Jr., officiating.

Mr. L. H. Russell, of Fredericksburg, Va., and Mr. Samuel B. Hall acted as ushers. The bride, who has made her home in Richmond for several years, and is held in high esteem here, wore a handsome gown of plum-colored cloth, with hat and gloves to correspond.

After February 10th, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will make their home at No. 412 North Collington Avenue, Baltimore. Only the immediate families and most intimate friends of the contracting parties attended the ceremony.

Hilliard—Carter.

A pretty home wedding took place yesterday evening at 6 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Carter, No. 50 North Street, when their daughter, Miss Judith Liveston Carter, was given in marriage to Professor John L. Hilliard, of Urbana, Va. The Rev. John A. Sullivan performed the ceremony.

Tasteful decorations were of palms and potted plants. Miss Lillian Harris had charge of the music, playing Mendelssohn's wedding march and the processional and "Hearts and Flowers" during the ceremony.

The bride entered with her father from the rear parlor and met the groom at the altar. She was preceded by her sister, Miss Ella Edmonds Carter, as maid of honor, and the groom was attended by his brother, Dr. Richard K. Hilliard, as best man.

The bride wore a handsome gown—away gown of cadet blue, with a white fur hat, white gloves and furs. Her sister wore a gown of cream albatross, with trimmings of lace and ribbon, and carried a bouquet of lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony Professor and Mrs. Hilliard left for Washington, Baltimore and other Northern cities. They will make their home in Urbana, Va., where Professor Hilliard is principal of the Urbana Academy.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

Club Musicale.

A brilliant audience attended the musical given at the Women's Club last evening under the direction of Mrs. E. A. Hoeh, chairman of the musical committee of the club for the year.

Mrs. Addie Kline Schmidt Payne, of Washington, who was here for the first time in Richmond, delighted every one present with her beautiful contralto. Her numbers were exquisitely rendered, with rare sweetness and tenderness, and the applause following each performance was hearty and prolonged.

She sang several ballads by way of encore, the last one, "My Lullaby," by Leidliger, seeming the most beautiful of all. Miss Reinhardt's violin numbers and Mrs. Redford's piano solos were alike charming. The performance and Mrs. Leu-were heartily congratulated on the brilliant success of the evening.

Guests of the evening were Mrs. Thornton Starnard, Mrs. George Warren, Mrs. Marie Harrison, Mrs. Leslie Young, Mrs. Carrington, Mrs. Hancock and Misses Robbins.

Mrs. Robert Page Grymes and Mrs. S. H. Boykin served the loes. The reception was exceedingly pleasant.

Of General Interest.

At a reception given at Stoneleigh Court, Washington, D. C., Wednesday afternoon, by Miss Perkins, daughter of Senator Perkins, of California, Miss Annie Rose Walker, of this city, Mrs. James Alston Cabell, Mrs. Henry Stuart, Miss Page Royal, of Richmond, and Miss Buttermilk.

A Surer Way Out.

The "Buttermilk fad" which its followers insisted was the cure for all the ills that human flesh is heir to, has pretty well had its day.

Buttermilk is a pleasant and healthy drink, but there are a whole lot of desirable things that it cannot do. A Nebraska woman found something much more worth while. She says:

"Three years ago my stomach was in such a frightful condition that I could scarcely bear to take any food at all. Indeed there was once that I went for days without a morsel of nourishment, preferring starvation to the acute agony that I suffered when I ate anything. And all this entailed upon me almost constant headache and nervousness. My condition was truly pitiable.

"The doctor warned me that the coffee I drank was chiefly responsible for this condition. Instead, I despaired buttermilk and could not bring myself to use it.

"Then I was advised to try Postum Food Coffee. It has completely renovated and made over my whole system. The only effect on my poor stomach was simply marvelous, and that straightened out the headaches, nervousness and other troubles soon vanished. For more than a year I have not felt any distress or pain, such as I once thought would kill me.

"I can truthfully say that Postum has brought me the blessing of the perfect health I enjoy, for I gave up medicines when I began its use." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Rosa Tucker, of Virginia, were assisting the hostesses.

Miss Royal has been in Washington, as the guest of Miss Beatrice Ashmead, for some weeks and was among the debutantes attending to Bachelor's Collin recently given in Washington, at the New Willard.

Mid-Winter Meeting.

Mr. Henning will speak to the alumnae of the Central Woman's College, and Professor Woodward will address the members. The graduating class has been asked to be present. A social half-hour will follow at the close of the meeting. All alumnae are earnestly requested to attend.

Guest of Honor.

Mr. Theodore Marburg, of Baltimore, who will give an address in the hall of the House of Delegates, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Richmond Education Association, will previously be the guest of honor at a reception given Friday afternoon, by Mrs. Beverly Bland Mumford, to Mr. John Safford and Miss Safford.

PATRIOTIC SOCIETIES.

Hampton Daughters Meet.

Personal Mention.

The Newport News Daily Press of Wednesday, February 7th, has the following interesting account of the United Daughters of the Confederacy chapter meeting. It says:

One of the most interesting meetings of Hampton Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, was that of yesterday afternoon. The attendance was good, and for more than an hour the time passed with unusual attractiveness to the ladies. The chapter met in the Young Men's Christian Association building, and Mrs. Robert S. Hinds, the president, was in the chair. Mrs. Hudgins read an interesting paper, in which she gave a comprehensive review of the work accomplished by Hampton Chapter during the last ten years, and Mrs. E. Pendleton Jones, the historian, delighted her hearers with a strong paper on the "Burning of Hampton."

Miss Annie Richardson entertained the members with a paper on "The Richmond Confederate Museum."

Sixteen applicants for membership were received. A letter thanking the chapter for contributions was read from Mrs. E. Raab, vice-president of the Home for Needy Confederate Women in Richmond.

After some discussion the chapter decided to build up the idea of building a Confederate home in Hampton, and will devote the money raised for that purpose to assisting charitable institutions for the care of Confederate men and women.

The Rev. E. Pendleton Jones, D. D., pastor of the Hampton Baptist Church, was elected to honorary membership in the chapter, and he has accepted of an invitation to deliver a lecture in the near future on his "Travels Abroad" for the benefit of the organization.

The chapter unanimously voted to send $25 annually to the Southern Education Association, which has as its object the training of the children of Confederate veterans.

DESERT HOMES AND THEN THEY RETURN

Two Runaway Wives Are Persuaded By Mr. Buchanan to Return to Their Families.

A story has just come to light of two women who fled last week from Newport News to escape conjugal infidelity, and who later, through the endeavors of Rev. James Buchanan, returned to their rightful marital happiness.

The two women, whose names were not mentioned, came together from Newport News last week. Both were married; one had three children and the other one child. On arriving in Richmond they were directed to the Ballard House, where Mr. Buchanan gave them shelter and food, and afterwards, on their representations that they were seeking honest work, secured positions for them both as domestics. Both the women gave assumed names, and represented themselves as being single, and said that they were sisters.

Two days after their arrival the husband of the one who had left three little children behind her, came to Richmond and asked Mr. Buchanan to help him find his errant wife, and to help induce her to return home with him. He told a sad story of a wifeless home and his three motherless little children, enlisting the sympathies of Mr. Buchanan, who promptly went out to look for the runaway wives. They were found, and the seeking husband was given the opportunity of meeting and talking with his wife. After the talk and inducement on the part of Mr. Buchanan, the wife was persuaded to return to her husband and little ones, and the other one also agreed to return home. Mr. Buchanan paid the fare of one and half the fare of the other. The little party, in which harmony had once more been restored, returned to Newport News, and the two empty homes were made happy as before.
